Data sources

- CIFOR 2010 Jepara road network map at a scale of 1:50 000 and a census report of small-scale furniture producers
- BAPPEDA 2008 Thematic map of the district of Jepara, used for administrative boundary data and road network
- BAKOSURTANAL Digital topographic base map of Indonesia (RBI) with the basic scale of 1:50 000, sheet numbers 1409-313, -314, -331, -332 and -334, used for the road network and settlement data
- Tourism and Culture Unit, District of Jepara. Map of Jepara’s tourism interest points

The Jepara Furniture Value Chain Project is funded by the Australian Centre for International Agricultural Research (ACIAR) and implemented by the Center for International Forestry Research (CIFOR) in collaboration with the Forum Rembuk Kluster (FRK), the Government of Jepara District, Forestry Research and Development Agency (Balitbanghut), The Ministry of Forestry and the Faculty of Forestry, Bogor Agricultural University (IPB).

www.cifor.org/furniture
The carving city of Jepara

The region of Jepara has been renowned since the reign of Queen Kalinamat (1549–1579). At that time, Jepara was the main commercial port on the island of Java and a naval base. Queen Kalinamat was instrumental in the development of a sculpture tradition, which is still an economic mainstay of Jepara. Jepara-style carving has unique characteristics because it marries features of the carving styles of the Majapahit Kingdom with a contemporary style of Chinese origin.

Queen Kalinamat made Jepara into both a prosperous and a powerful, famous region. To commemorate her reign, the anniversary of Jepara is celebrated on the day she was crowned as ruler of Jepara, the 12th day of Rabiuul Awal 956H or 10 April 1549. Her coronation was marked with the four-word slogan, ‘Trus kanya rataning bumi,’ which can be interpreted as ‘Keep working hard to build the region.’

Reviving the Jepara furniture industry

Although Jepara is located outside the main economic and tourism corridor of Java, it has its own special advantage, which makes it a unique and valuable destination for tourists and other guests. For a long time, Jepara has been recognised for its master carvers and carpenters, and this Central Javanese city has come to be known as ‘The Carving City of Jepara.’

Unfortunately the Jepara furniture industry has been in decline since the 2000s; similar industries have developed in other places and teak wood sources are depleted. The local government has therefore decided to try to revive the glory of the furniture industry and of Jepara carving.

Although the Jepara furniture industry has been known for hundreds of years, tourists or buyers who come to Jepara have trouble finding furniture of the type and quality they desire. This is because there is no reliable guide for finding the many furniture workshops and stores.

This map benefits tourists, buyers and furniture artisans alike. Tourists can easily find the type of product they are looking for, with the price and quality of their choice. Carpenters and carvers scattered across Jepara have the opportunity to interact directly with buyers.

Apart from the wood furniture industry, Jepara has various other manufacturing industries that support the local economy, some of which have been included in this guide.

Krasak–Gemiring area

This is the gateway to the district of Jepara, either from Demak or Kudus. The industry in this region is dominated by official industrial centres set up by the local government.

Mayong

Mayong is the centre for clay roof tiles. The sales area is located on the right of the main road from Jepara to Kudus. Products offered here include roof tiles such as Mantili, Supersoka, plastered roof ridges and shingle. Through marketing, products have reached many areas in Indonesia and Malaysia.

Gemiring Lor

These shops, on the eastern edge of the map, are close to the Kudus District. Products offered here include gebyog, carved wooden walls and doors, and jamb carvings for traditional Javanese wooden houses.

Kriyan

This area is specified by the local government as a centre for white steel (monel) manufacture. Usually sold as jewellery or home decorations, Indonesians who have made the hajj wear white steel bracelets produced in this area as a status symbol.

Telukwetan

The village of Telukwetan is the centre of the rattan industry, where you can buy many types of furniture made from rattan or a combination of rattan and wood.

Nearby, in the village of Pelemkereg, Mayong District, on the right of Mayong District office, is the monument that marks the birthplace of R. A. Kartini, the Indonesian women’s emancipation heroine (B6).
Bondo–Sekuro area

This area includes the districts of Mloonggo, Bangsri and Pakisaji. Several furniture production centres are located here.

Karanggondang
From the main road that connects Jepara to Pati, turn left at Mloonggo. Follow the road towards Karanggondang. Products sold here include folding chairs and lounge chairs.

Sekuro
The main product produced here is the extendable table, which is made from local teak and targeted at the domestic market.

Slagi
Slagi, located south of Sekuro, is the centre for the slatted, outdoor Marlboro bench, a chair with a high backrest, horizontal stripes and a curved armrest on each side. Products are made for export to the United States, Germany, Brunei Darussalam and Africa.

Ngabul–Mindahan area

This area covers the subdistricts of Tahunan and Batealit. Several groups of carpenters and carvers work here.

Ngabul
Ngabul is well known for antique, wooden furniture with ancient designs and carving, and products made from older, recycled wood. Both indoor and outdoor products are produced to meet export standards. Products are targeted at the domestic market, as well as for export to destinations such as Malaysia, France and Australia.

Ngasem
Daybeds and baby cots can be found in the Ngasem area. Other products include sofas, dressers, kitchen sets, gebyog and gazebos.

Mindahan
To the east in Batealit, Mindahan is the sales centre for nightstands and divans. Made from local teak and targeted at the domestic market, these products are on sale as unfinished products.

Bawu
Located in the northern area of the map. Bawu is the place to find wooden easels made from teak and mahogany for both local and export markets.

Pekalongan
Pekalongan, to the west of Bawu, is where you can find coat racks made of mahogany and intended for the domestic market. Outside this area, products from Pekalongan can be found in Jepara, Yogyakarta and Surakarta (Golo).

Kedungcino–Mulyoharjo area

Several groups of artisans work in this region.

Mulyoharjo
From the Ratu Shima main road heading towards Mulyoharjo, turn left on Belakang Gunung Street. This area has been set up as a centre of wood sculpture by the district government. The statues are made from various types of wood including rain tree wood, coffee wood, teak root, wood waste and fossilized or recycled wood.

Bandengan
Bandengan is north of Mulyoharjo. Go north on the Ratu Shima main road and turn left at the sign for Bandengan. The unique products offered here include furniture shaped like boats, as well as chairs and bookcases. These export quality products, made from old teak salvaged from boats, are produced for the European and North African markets.

Kedungcino
The northernmost furniture shops in this area are at Kedungcino. From the Ratu Shima main road turn left on the Wonorojo–Bandengan road that goes to Kedungcino. The speciality in this location is garden furniture including the grape chair, a chair carved with a grape ornament on the back of the seat, and the betawi chair, of Batavian traditional design. Made from local teak, the products are targeted at the domestic market and sold in an unfinished state.
Kawak–Plajan area

The Kawak–Plajan area includes the subdistricts of Pakisaji, Mlonggo and Bangsri.

Kawak

This area can be reached via the main road from Mlonggo to Bangsri; turn right at the road that goes to Guyangan. After about 1.5 km, turn right again . The flagship item in this area is the rekal, a stand for the Qur’an or any other book.

Plajan

From Kawak, go southeast to Guyangan. The selling location is quite extensive, following the Guyangan to Plajan road . Plajan is the place to buy stackable office chairs and the peanut bench, an outdoor chair shaped like a peanut.

Bulakbaru–Dongos area

The Bulakbaru–Dongos area includes the subdistricts of Tahunan, Pecangaan and Kedung.

Troso

The district government has designated Troso as the centre of the weaving industry, located on the main road from Demak to Jepara. Turn left on to the road leading to Bulakbaru . Products offered here include tablecloths, pillowcases, curtains, gloves, long cloths and mats.

Dongos

Northwest of Troso is Dongos, which covers quite a large area . Here you can find a special piece of furniture known as the eagle and stair chair.

Products are made from mahogany and targeted at both domestic and export markets.

Bugel

Bugel is located to the west of Dongos . This area is famous for the crab chair (kursi payas), a chair designed in the shape of a crab. It has four curved legs without a backrest and its armrest has seven stripes. The products here are made from local teak and intended for domestic and export markets.

Menganti

Menganti is located northwest of Bugel. From the Bulakbaru road, turn right at the Bugel–Mantingan junction. Products include the Roman style chair and the balero chair, a dining chair with a high backrest and five stripes . Besides these two items, other products found here are the salina chairs, which consist of four dining chairs and one round dining table, the basket chair and various tables.

Kerso

Kerso is north of Menganti . In this area you can find betawi and salina chairs, the balero chair, various dining chairs, and the box seat, a chair with box motifs.

Jondang

Jondang is located south of the Bulakbaru road.

From Menganti, go south, past the crossroads at Kedung, and you will arrive at Jondang . Specialities from this area include pot chairs, made for flower pots, and Roman style chairs. Carved from local teakwood, these products are manufactured specifically for the domestic market.

Bulakbaru

Located on the western edge of the map . Bulakbaru is famous for one product, the nightstand or bedside table. Terawangan transparent carvings are also found here, along with sideboards and cabinets.
Tegalsambi–Sukosono area

Demaan
Demaan, in the north of the map, is well known for its corner seats. This item is made from a combination of teak and rosewood, which results in a gradation of two colours of wood. Products are targeted at the domestic market.

Krapyak
Going south along Kalinyamat Road and turning right at Randusampil Street, you arrive at the centre for chair production, in particular the minimalist Hong Kong chair, a chair with Chinese style ornamentation. Products are produced for the domestic market and sold as unfinished furniture.

Mangunan
In this area the bale-bale, a wooden daybed, is manufactured. Other products, which are sold on the domestic market, include cabinets and laundry baskets.

Demangan
Demangan is the centre for sideboards, nightstands, lawn chairs and dressers. Products are mainly intended for the domestic market.

Semat
As in Demaan, furniture produced in this area also combines teak and rosewood, and includes dining chairs, guest chairs, patio chairs, display cases, wardrobes and desks. The historical point of interest in this area is the statue of R. A. Kartini, located at the intersection of KS Tubun, HOS Cokroaminoto, Kartini and Permudo streets.

Kuwasen–Kecapi area

This area is located near Jepara city centre, and extends into the subdistricts of Jepara, Paksa'i, Tahunan and Bateali.

Senenan
On the main Jepara–Pati road, slightly north of Senenan and on the left is a centre for wooden relief carving. Immediately east of Senenan is a production centre for Roman and Monaco style furniture.

Kecapi
Kecapi is the centre for carved partitions and room dividers. The showrooms are along Citrosono Street up to Sorosokartono crossroads on the northwest side.

Bulungan
This is the centre for cabinet manufacture. The showrooms extend along Sorosokartono street, turn left to go north on the road heading to Bulungan. You can find any kind of cabinet here, from wardrobes and bookcases to shelving units, chests of drawers and sideboards.

Bawu
Bawu is located southeast of Kecapi, on the crossroads of two streets, Kecapi–Bawu and Mangunan, in the northwest of the map, is known as Randusari. Bedroom sets and wardrobes are usually for export to the East Indies, and intended for the Belgian market. Miniature cabinets. Products are also made of two types of wood. Products are targeted at the domestic market.

Bawu
Bawu is located southeast of Kecapi, on the crossroads of two streets, Kecapi–Bawu and Mangunan, in the northwest of the map, is known as Randusari. Bedroom sets and wardrobes are usually for export to the East Indies, and intended for the Belgian market. Miniature cabinets. Products are also made of two types of wood. Products are targeted at the domestic market.

Rukmini
This area is the centre for the king's chair, named as such because it replicates the kind of chair used in palaces in England.
Mantingan–Sukosono area

The Mantingan–Sukosono area is located close to downtown Jepara, about 3 km from the centre on the main street from Jepara to Demak.

Tendok

Along Tendoksari Street there are many types of frames for paintings and mirrors. The products are usually for export to the East Asian market, especially to China and Korea. A pigura is a wooden picture frame.

Langon

Not far from Tendok, on Sidodadi Street, there is a ketapang centre. Tables and beds made in ketapang style have distinctive legs that curve inwards and are usually made from teak, mahogany or durian. These products are exported to destinations such as Korea, Japan and France.

Still around Langon but further south at the crossroads of Sidodadi and Sultan Hadlirin streets, you will find a centre for coffin manufacture. Items are made from teak or mahogany and sold on the domestic market.

Sukosono

From Langon, follow the road that connects Dongos to Sukodono and you will arrive at the centre for furniture made in shapes inspired by plants and animals. The best known products from this area are chairs with carvings of crabs, dragons, fish and roses. These products are intended for sale on domestic and export markets.

Rau

Rau, at the southwestern corner of the map, is the centre for corner seats. Products are made from teak and mahogany and intended for the domestic market.

Mantingan

Mantingan, in the northwest of the map, is the centre for sideboards, bookcases and display cabinets. Products are exported, especially to Belgium. Miniature furniture for children and dolls can also be found here.

Sukodono

In the vicinity of Sukodono, there is a centre for salina seats, which have a wide variety of shapes and ornaments, including carved roses. Salina seats are generally produced for the domestic market.

Randusari Bendo

In the north, especially around Jayadi Rojo Street, you will find a centre for sofas. The area is known as Randusari. Bedroom sets and door frames are also made and sold here.

You can visit some historical sites in this neighbourhood, including the Mantingan mosque complex. This ancient mosque was built during the reign of the Sultanate of Demak, in the Saka year 1481 or 1559 AD, by Emperor Hadlirin, the husband of Queen Kalinyamat and brother-in-law of Sultan Trenggono, the last ruler of the Sultanate of Demak. This was the second mosque built in Indonesia, and became the centre of Islamic proselytising on the north coast of Java. In this complex you can also find the graves of Sultan Hadlirin and Waliulah Bah Abdul Jalil, also known as Sheikh Siti Jenar.
Assembling a chair

Using a chainsaw to shape the wood

Offloading logs

Teak forest in Jepara

This is the centre for cabinet manufacture. The best known products from this area are chairs with carvings of crabs, dragons, fish and roses. Salina seats are generally produced for sale on the domestic market. Products are intended for sale on the domestic and export markets. These products are usually for export to the East, and includes dining chairs, guest chairs, patio chairs, display cases, wardrobes, cabinets. Products are made from teak and mahogany or durian. These products are exported to destinations such as Korea, Japan, Belgium. Miniature krapyak Demangan is the centre for sideboards, nightstands, lawn chairs and, in this area the Kong chair, a chair with Chinese style ornamentation. Products are made from a combination of teak and rosewood, which results in a gradation of two colours of wood. Products are targeted at the domestic market and sold as unfinished furniture.

As in Demaan, furniture produced in this area combines teak and rosewood, inspired by plants and animals. The best relief carving. Immediately east of Senenan is a centre for carved partitions and room dividers. The showrooms are along Citrosono Street. From Langon, follow the road that connects crossroads of Sidodadi and Sultan Hadlirin and find a centre for coffins manufacture. Items are made from teak or mahogany and sold on the domestic market. The historical point of interest in this area is the statue of R. A. Trenggono, the last ruler of the Sultanate of Demak. This was the second mosque built in Demak, in the Saka year 1481 or 1559 AD, by Emperor Hadlirin, the husband of Queen Rukmini. This area is the centre for the king’s chair, named as such because it replicates the kind of chair used in palaces proselytising on the north coast of Java. In Trenggono, the last ruler of the Sultanate of Demak, in the Saka year 1481 or 1559 AD, built during the reign of the Sultanate of Demak. This ancient mosque was built during the reign of the Sultanate of Demak. This was the second mosque built in Demak. This ancient mosque was built during the reign of the Sultanate of Demak. This was the second mosque built in Demak, in the Saka year 1481 or 1559 AD, by Emperor Hadlirin, the husband of Queen Rukmini. This area is the centre for the king’s chair, named as such because it replicates the kind of chair used in palaces proselytising on the north coast of Java. In Trenggono, the last ruler of the Sultanate of Demak, in the Saka year 1481 or 1559 AD, built during the reign of the Sultanate of Demak.
Sanding the furniture

Assembling a chair

Using a chainsaw to shape the wood

Carrying the log

Offloading logs

Teak forest in Jepara

Kecapi–Bawu crossroads, Kecapi is the centre for carved partitions and room furniture, production centre for Roman and Monaco style relief carving. Immediately east of Senenan is a manufacture centre for coffins, inspired by plants and animals. The best carvings of crabs, dragons, fish and roses. Salina seats are generally produced for the domestic market.

From Langon, follow the road that connects Sukosono, Tahunan and Jepara. There are fewer workshops and showrooms in this area but there is still/variety. Workshops and showrooms extend along Sosrokartono street; turn up to Sosrokartono crossroads on the northwest dividers. The showrooms are along Citrosono Street.

Still around Langon but further south at the crossroads of Sidodadi and Sultan Hadlirin extends into the subdistricts of Jepara, Pakisaji, Tahunan and Batealit. This area is located near Jepara city centre, and extends into the subdistricts of Jepara, Pakisaji, Tahunan and Batealit. This area is located near Jepara city centre, and

Demangan is the centre for sideboards, nightstands, lawn chairs and cabinets. Products are made from teak and mahogany or durian. These products are exported to destinations such as Korea, Japan and intended for the Asian market, especially to China and Korea. A

Along Tendoksari Street there are many types of cabinets. Products are made from a combination of teak and rosewood, which results in a gradation of shapes and ornaments, including carved mahogany and sold on the domestic market.

Not far from Tendok, on Sidodadi Street, there is a wooden picture frame. Pigura is a wooden picture frame.

In the vicinity of Sukodono, there is a centre for corner seats, which have a wide variety of shapes and ornaments, including carved mahogany and sold on the domestic market.

In the north, especially around Jayadi Rojo street, you will find a centre for sofas. The area around Jayadi Rojo street, you will find a centre for sofas. The area

Kong chair, a chair with Chinese style ornamentation. Products are made in Belgium. Miniature dolls can also be found here.

In the Mantingan–Sukosono area of the map, is the Rau, at the southwestern corner of the map, is the centre for sideboards, nightstands, lawn chairs and krapyak. Products are made from teak and mahogany, and intended for the domestic market.

Further down the road going south to Mantingan Kalinyamat, turn right towards Tegalsambi, and there are centres for dresser manufacture. Frames door frames are also made and sold here.

Randusari is known as Randusari. Bedroom sets and furniture for children and Randusari Bendo is a wooden picture frame. Pigura is a wooden picture frame.

In the Mantingan area, in the north of the map, is well known for its corner seats. This item is made from a combination of teak and rosewood, which results in a gradation of shapes and ornaments, including carved mahogany and sold on the domestic market.

Demaan, in the north of the map, is well known for its corner seats. This item is made from a combination of teak and rosewood, which results in a gradation of shapes and ornaments, including carved mahogany and sold on the domestic market.

In the Demangan area, in the south of the map, is known as Randusari. Bedroom sets and furniture for children and Demangan, in the north of the map, is well known for its corner seats. This item is made from a combination of teak and rosewood, which results in a gradation of shapes and ornaments, including carved mahogany and sold on the domestic market.

In the Randusari area, in the north of the map, is well known for its corner seats. This item is made from a combination of teak and rosewood, which results in a gradation of shapes and ornaments, including carved mahogany and sold on the domestic market.

Mantingan, in the north of the map, is well known for its corner seats. This item is made from a combination of teak and rosewood, which results in a gradation of shapes and ornaments, including carved mahogany and sold on the domestic market.

In the Sulawesi area, in the north of the map, is well known for its corner seats. This item is made from a combination of teak and rosewood, which results in a gradation of shapes and ornaments, including carved mahogany and sold on the domestic market.

In the Randusari area, in the north of the map, is well known for its corner seats. This item is made from a combination of teak and rosewood, which results in a gradation of shapes and ornaments, including carved mahogany and sold on the domestic market.

In the Sulawesi area, in the north of the map, is well known for its corner seats. This item is made from a combination of teak and rosewood, which results in a gradation of shapes and ornaments, including carved mahogany and sold on the domestic market.

In the Sulawesi area, in the north of the map, is well known for its corner seats. This item is made from a combination of teak and rosewood, which results in a gradation of shapes and ornaments, including carved mahogany and sold on the domestic market.

In the Randusari area, in the north of the map, is well known for its corner seats. This item is made from a combination of teak and rosewood, which results in a gradation of shapes and ornaments, including carved mahogany and sold on the domestic market.